THE REVOLVER MISSED FIRE.

Gillison, Aged 19, Is In Jail Charged With Abduction.

Argenta had a sensation Tuesday when resulted in the arrest of Raco Gillison and his confinement in the county jail last night.

Raco Gillison is a farm hand and his home is in the northern part of the state. He is 19 years old. He had become enamored of Daisy Johnson, aged 14. The parents of the little girl objected to the attentions of Gillison and the latter concluded that the only relief was in death.

Monday evening he and the girl walked into the country together and seeking a secluded place Gillison put a revolver to the head of the girl and pulled the trigger. The cartridge failed to explode. He tried repeatedly, but without effect. The failure was due to the fact that he had loaded a center fire revolver with rim fire cartridges.

Then the couple went to the home of Newton Burkhardt and asked for poison. They were given a little for the family but not that they really intended suicide. The couple left Burkhardt's house and early next morning were found sleeping in his barn.

When the truth of the affair became known Gillison was arrested and Tuesday afternoon he was arraigned before Justice Six in the town hall. Assistant State Attorney Logan was there to prosecute on the charge of abduction, but the boy waived examination and was brought to Decatur by Constable Farr and lodged in the county jail.

Gillison is described as a "smart" boy. The girl is said to be a "sensible" one. What was meant by Gillison when he suggested that they commit suicide, although she agreed that that was the thing to do. The affair created not a little excitement in Argenta.

NEED A WORKHOUSE

For the Benefit of Hoboes Coming in to Winter Quarters.

"We need a workhouse and we need it bad," said Justice Proctor to a reporter Tuesday. "The tramps and hobos are beginning to get into the town and look out for soft quarters for the winter. Decatur is a mark for the 'Willies,' we heard them for a few weeks at our back doors and then board and lodge them at the public expense in the county jail for 10 or 15 days and then release them in the spring to allow them to get out on the road."

"And the ordinary plain drunk who is hauled up pretty regularly every Monday morning and fined $3 and costs or sent to the county jail, what does he care if his wife has to do two or three washings to pay his fine, or whether he stays in a nice, comfortable jail?"

"What we need is a good modern workhouse where we can get some work out of these men. Work is what they hate worse than anything else and the town would be comparatively free of hoboes if they knew that as soon as they appeared here they would get thirty days at hard labor."

MAY BECOME TOWN LOTS.

Probability That McClelland Property Will Be Platted.

There is a possibility that the McClelland tract lying just west of the city may be platted and put on the market for sale as residence sites. Thoron, Frank and Chauncey Powers and Frank Shall have secured an option on the homestead which contains a little over forty acres.

The location is the most available for an addition to the city of any similar tract within the same distance, fourteen blocks, of the business district.

The new asphalt pavement will extend to the northeast corner of the property and water and sewerage would be available to all lots.

SOCIALLY SPEAKING

One of the most pleasant social events of the year was held on Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Boyer, 1664 West Eldorado street, by the Epworth League of the First Methodist church. The evening was "Days on the Farm" and the house was made up to represent a typical country home. The geese, turkeys and the chickens were added to the decorations, while corn, sweet potatoes, pumpkins, radishes, apples, oats, hay and straw and everything else which grows on a farm were piled about the house in a confused mass to represent the hurry of the harvest time.

The supper consisted of ginger bread and butter milk. Yesterday the house was cleared, except the decorations and a photograph will take a picture of the scene.

O O O
D. Kellington, living at 706 West Marion street, was pleasantly surprised on his 74th birthday, September 21, by his children. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. G. K. Kellington, Mr. and Mrs. Newt Kellington, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Kellington, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Kellington, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Willard, Mrs. Emma Borhows, Miss Clara Willard.

O O
Miss Hensle Lutz entertained a few friends at her home on West North street Tuesday evening. Several of the young people are going away in a few days either to attend school or to spend the winter and the occasion was a sort of general farewell party.

The principal amusement of the evening was ping pong and chafing dish refreshments were served.

Mrs. Wells entertained the members of her Sunday school class last night at her home together with a few of the persons who made the tour of Europe the past summer with Dr. Penhalligan's party. The evening resolved itself into a miniature journey to the old country, the voyage out being described by the tourists and also scenes in the various countries visited. The refreshments served were in keeping with the country's visited. The evening proved very enjoyable to all in attendance.

MAY GIVE BOND.

Flo Miller Is Visited At the Jail By Her Father.

Flo Miller, the woman who is in jail awaiting the verdict of the grand jury, being held on the charge of bigamy, was visited at the county jail last evening by her father. He is a Methodist minister and is said to be a member of the Illinois conference, but his name was not given. There was an affecting scene when the father was ushered into the presence of the woman in the jail annex and there they had a long talk. The father told the daughter that he would try to arrange to get bail for her. The bond demanded is in the sum of $500. The woman was at first penitent, but afterwards there was something of defiance in her manner. She declined to tell anything about her parents or say where her father was stationed except to say that he lived in Illinois. She seemed rather dubious about the ability of her father to make the arrangements he said he would undertake.

THE WORK BEGINS

On the Korn Karnival Palace On Water Street of Central Park. This Week.

NOVEL TICKET IS ISSUED.

Good For One First Class Passage To Big Show.

The executive committee of the Decatur Korn Karnival held a meeting Tuesday evening at the office of B. Z. Taylor.

It was decided to begin the construction of the Korn Palace in Central park this week. It will consist of a row of booths facing Water street and abutting on the sidewalk along the west side of the park. Two by four will be laid on the grass and the flooring and the framework to support the canvas roof will rest on these. In this way the grass will not be damaged and the trees also will be suitably protected.

These booths will be for the exhibition of the agricultural products and a general industrial display. The committee has decided to sell advertising space in these booths. At either end and at the middle, ornamental arches will span the walks leading into the park and these will not be obstructed in any way. The whole front will be decorated in some way.

George Keller was appointed to take up the matter of railroad accommodation for the visiting public who are expected to be in the city carnival week. An effort will be made to have certain night trains held an hour or more and also to secure special trains upon the special days.

Fodder For The Fans.

Bloomington has commenced work on the ball park, getting it in shape for the next year. The ground will be leveled and some of the depressions filled. The ground will then be sown in wheat and grass and next spring it is expected that the park will be as good as there is in the league. It is the intention of the directors to spend $300 in the work this fall.

The American association had a wonderfully successful season at Kansas City. Over 87,000 paid admissions is the record for the year.

Larry Schaffy of Evansville and Terre Haute is now playing right field for the Chicago National league team and is hitting and fielding well. Morrissey, ex-short stop for the Rockford mine, is playing second base for Cincinnati.

Walters and Popp have returned to Terre Haute after a trip with a barn storming bunch.

"The big leagues are drawing upon the Three-I league for players more heavily than upon any of the other minor leagues," said President Louis Smith of Terre Haute. "The Three-I league has been putting up great ball, and the big teams are beginning to recognize the fact. I believe Terre Haute will be the town of the league to suffer most, and the number of players taken by the National league will compel a thorough reorganization of our team next year. I have signed Baird, Thompson, Scott, De Armond and Beecher, and the big leagues will have to pay heavily for these men if they get them."

NEED SHOP ROOM

Wabash Company Has Option On Vacant Land Adjoining Shop Yard On the North.

RAMSEY SEES NEED OF SHOPS.

Illinois Central Makes Big Contribution To the State Treasury.

In the annual report of President Ramsey of the Wabash, which is briefly summarized in this column, that official of the Banner Route refers to the fact that the company is greatly in need of new shops both for the car department and for the machinery department and declares that the company has no shops worthy of the name.

Mr. Ramsey says that better shops are needed on both the eastern and middle divisions. It is known here that the Wabash company already has taken an option on a large piece of land for the purpose of increasing the capacity of the car shops. The option relates to the land lying north of the shops of this city. The tract is about 300 by 1,000 feet extending from the Illinois Central east to Jasper street and from Sangamon street south to the Wabash shops, a distance of 320 feet.

So far as is known in Decatur the negotiations have progressed no farther than to give the railroad company an option on the property. The desire is to increase the capacity of the car shops, the theory evidently being that now is the time to make preparations for the future, while the site may be secured. The company is extremely fortunate in being able to find vacant ground so close to the site already occupied by their shops.

Annual Report.

The thirteenth annual report of the Wabash shows a continuation of large increases in the earnings of the company and further improvement in the condition of the property. This report, made by Joseph Ramsey, Jr., president, to the board of directors, will be submitted to the annual meeting of stockholders on October 7.

Last year was an unbroken record of increases for every month. President Ramsey's estimate of earnings being exceeded $1,000,000. Total revenue of the company from all sources was $19,870,781.32, against $17,816,646.99; expenses of operation, including taxes, track rentals and miscellaneous, $15,234,016.79, compared with $14,096,132.81, a slight increase; net revenue was $1,720,007.60, a good increase; additions to property, $589,499.60, an increase; sinking fund charges, account of new equipment, steamers, etc., $1,770,482.92, an increase; dividend of 6 per cent on debenture "A" bonds, $201,460.64, over $93,135.95 in the previous year. President Ramsey further states:

"Excepting the shops at Moberly, the company has no shops—locomotive or car—worthy the name. We must, therefore, at once arrange for new shops for both the middle and eastern divisions. This will require within the next two years between $400,000 and $600,000."

Work is now under way for reducing the grades from sixty feet to twenty-one feet per mile at five points on the middle division, between Bement and Chicago, at a cost of about $350,000. The company has contracted for 600 flat cars, 60 locomotives, and 60 coaches, etc., at a cost of about $1,500,000.

Freight earnings for the year were $11,763,541.41, an increase of $804,676.17; passenger earnings were $6,780,240.62, an increase of $797,646.37; mail, express and miscellaneous increased. The passenger earnings greatly increased over the previous year, which was the Wabash's heavy Buffalo exposition year.

The increase of $1,459,028.02 in earnings is divided as follows: Wabash, west of Detroit, $1,226,487.88; Buffalo division, $272,540.14. The increase in expenses is divided as follows: Wabash, west of Detroit, $993,394.28; Buffalo division, $101,956.49.

The I. C. Contribution.

The charter of the Illinois Central company provides that the state of Illinois shall receive in lieu of taxes 7 per cent of the gross receipts of the 706 miles of railroad originally built. The sum so paid this year was $911,366, which, if capitalized at 3 1/2 per cent, would give $26,039,024, as representing the proprietary interest of the state of Illinois in the Illinois Central railroad. This is the largest payment ever made to the state in any one year.

In the betterment of the property there have been spent during the year $8,067,647, of which $268,412 was charged to betterment funds previously provided and $4,

People who wear fine clothes and put on style are now "smart" whether they have an ounce of brains in their heads or not.

Kansas will have corn to burn this year. She is likely to do it. A ton of corn will probably be as cheap as a ton of coal out on the former grass-hopper prairie.

The manner of the death of Barker Karpis makes it a little hard for the "smart set" all the way to answer the severe arraignment of Col. Waterson.

The pension rolls have passed the 1,000,000 mark. The actual number of pensioners for the month of August is 1,001,974. The granting of pension to Spanish-American war soldiers caused the increase.

A Chicago preacher thinks the world is getting worse. Then it must be presumed that he considers Christianity a failure. Next we may hear of this brilliant divine announcing as his subject "The mistakes of Jesus." This preacher should either resign or leave Chicago.

The cancellation of the remainder of the dates of President Roosevelt came as a great shock and a positive grief to the people of the section to be visited. However if it secured a greater certainty of early recovery the country will gladly bear the disappointment.

Decatur is setting a pace for other cities to follow in resurfacing brick pavements with asphalt. This promises a happy solution of the problem of keeping brick streets in good order. Bloomington will send a committee here soon to get pointers along this line.

Republicans of Macon county will not rest on their laurels and let the foxes democrats sneak up with their rubber heels on and elect a sheriff or a treasurer. Mr. Adams was aware of the real situation. He knew that there was no possible hope this year of any democrat being elected in Macon county. If he went to the expense and labor of a campaign it was only fair that he should have a chance to get acquainted by meeting the people and speaking to them. The democratic committee muzzled him and he quit.

Some wild-eyed "smart" has discovered that J. Thompson Morgan will try to defeat Roosevelt's nomination. Failing in this Morgan will force the democrats to put up Grover Cleveland and then defeat Teddy at the election. Wouldn't the sovereign American citizen just enjoy getting a swipe at Morgan in person or by proxy at the polls? It would never get to the election. If it were known that the first trust promoter wanted to defeat Roosevelt's nomination he would get the delegates from every state in the Union.

There have been times when the Review was concerned with typographical errors in the Herald. These are annoying but they do occur in the most critical offices. An example is shown by our evening neighbor of Tuesday. The big black type of the night school gave this inflection "Educate for Success." Some weeks ago our neighbor also alluded to the drunkenness of Sam Jones. Of course it meant Sam Small. This is not by way of criticism but to remind our friends about throwing stones when their own plate glass is liable to be shattered. He that is without typographical sin should cast the first stone.

A MODERN JEAN VALJEAN.

Occasionally in real life characters are found to fit the great creations of the writers of fiction. Victor Hugo in Les Miserables by his wonderful genius has made the character Jean Valjean as real as if the writing had been an autobiography. Recently in New York a case of Jean Valjean is found. It should attract the attention of those who are seeking ways to uplift humanity. John Hindrickson was sent to state prison on some minor charge. His children never knew what took the father away, and when he returned his wife was waiting for him. As a ticket-of-leave man he found it impossible to get employment, and he changed his name. Then he was employed on a street car and was doing well. He felt so good over the fact that he was succeeding that one day he spoke to the judge who had sentenced him and told him about it. The judge felt good over it, too, and incidentally spoke of it to a friend. Some enemy with a heart like a flint had him arrested again under a statute that makes it a criminal matter to change the name after having been convicted of a crime. Monday he was sentenced to 60 days in jail. Justice seems exceedingly biased sometimes.

A dispatch from Rome says that Bishop Spalding will become archbishop of Chicago.

Barring mishaps it is safe to predict the nomination of Roosevelt two years hence without opposition.

The democrats might permit Mr. Adams to make just one speech. It would have pleased him and not hurt them.

Congressman Babcock is the reputed father of the "Baba" idea. It is said that Mr. Babcock is no longer proud of his progeny.

There may have been longer but there have been no better speeches by any president that those now being distributed by Theodore Roosevelt.

A Peoria paragon sagely remarks that "the Peoria city management have struck the right chord. Less variety theatre and more flowers!"

The Illinois republican campaign will be opened at Peoria today. Secretary of War Root, Senator Culham, Gov. Yates, Albert J. Hopkins and other big guns will blow the thing open.

Suppose congress had decided to put all the anarchists on some island and Martinique had been chosen. Wouldn't the world be happy now? But owing to an oversight the great riddance was not made.

The democrats have three great leaders now. Cleveland heads the reorganizers, Bryan is the idol of the populists and Henry Watterson sticks his editorial into both. Harmony is in three groups now.

According to the Kansas City Journal "the democratic platform of Colorado declares that 'Senator Toller gave Cuba her freedom.' It then adds 'this is somewhat surprising. We were under the impression that it was Billy Mason who freed Cuba.'"

Will some one who thinks "the tariff shelters trusts" explain how the standard oil trust and the anthracite coal trust have managed to have an absolute monopoly of oil and hard coal? Both are on the free list and no combinations are more gigantic or merciless in competition.

It seems that the germ of what is known as "summer complaint" in babies has been discovered and the two lucky medical students who made the discovery are to get a couple of hundred thousand dollars which was offered by John D. Rockefeller, who lost a grandchild from the disease two years ago. It is strange that no big reward has as yet been offered for the lions for the man who would make that discovery—Peoria Journal.

Spaulding robbed the state of Illinois of over $50,000 as treasurer of the state university under the Altgeld regime. He has been in the penitentiary for a few years. He has a young and beautiful wife who is making every effort to get this precious swindler out. So far she has not succeeded. Her lawyer, however, threatens to turn him loose on his victims very soon. The taxpayers are going down into their pockets each year to pay $25,000 as interest on the endowment securities that Spaulding fleeced. Every time a citizen pays his state tax he contributes to the comfort of Spaulding.

The Des Moines Iowa Capital is owned and edited by Lyle Young. In the evolution of the "Iowa Idea" Young was with Henderson and both were "agin it." It is interesting therefore to read Mr. Young's estimate of Henderson's sensation as published editorially in The Capital. He says that "it is to be regretted that Speaker Henderson decided upon his present method of going out of politics. His relation to the country and his party were too important for him to give such sudden must have taken unwise counsel. Now that the suddenness of the shock is passed, his best friends feel that he has made an almost unpardonable mistake."

President Roosevelt knows how to invade an enemy's country himself. He went to Michigan where Senator Burrows lives. It will be remembered that Burrows headed a revolt against Cuban reciprocity on sugar in Congress last winter. A solid republican delegation supported the senator. The best sugar interests of Michigan must be protected. President Roosevelt waited until he got to Michigan to make his Cuban reciprocity speech. Two things were noticeable. First, the absence of Senator Burrows and the scarcity of beet sugar congressmen. Second, the people were very much for the president. Four republican members from Michigan failed of re-nomination. Perhaps beet sugar and reciprocity did not do it but something did. It is very evident that the president is no more afraid to face the beet sugar men in Michigan than he was to face Spanish bullets at San Juan hill.

HOW ROOSEVELT DOES IT.

President Roosevelt in all his speeches has been careful to treat the trusts entirely separate and distinct from any other question, says an exchange. He evidently believes the trust to be a great evil, and is willing to use all his authority and influence to abate the same. In attacking trusts he has been careful not to make an indiscriminate assault upon money and the possession of wealth. He makes it clearly understood that it is not a crime to be a member of a corporation or even to be wealthy. He points out the difference between legitimate business and combinations organized to restrain trade and increase prices. He has been careful not to go to the extreme of attacking all business because some of it is deserving of attack. His course is to be highly commended. He has known the sensitive relations existing between business and public opinion; he has seen the country go into a panic apparently without cause and he knows that it might do so again.

There was no real or justifiable cause for the panic of 1893 and the dependent years following. But the people became restless and were determined, apparently, that things should go to pieces and things did go to pieces.

A VERNAL SUPERSTITION. Sunday and Monday were the time for the equinoctial storm. September 21 or 22 is the time of the Autumnal equinox. This is the time when the sun "crosses the line." It then goes over the equator on its excursion for the winter. What does the word equinox mean? Merely equal night or that day and night are of equal length. There is a popular superstition that this particular time in September—the autumnal equinox or fall equal night—the vernal equinox March 21 produces a storm. In March it is pretty safe to count on a storm about this time. March is long on bad weather and storms but September is usually mild and serene. There have been so many storms however this year all through August and September that the superstitions can take their choice of equinoctial storms. There has been a variety sufficient for the most fastidious. The fact is that weather conditions may be and doubtless are the result of meteorological laws but so far man has not discovered them. Their mysteries remained unfathomed. No one has attempted to show how the sun going across an imaginary line either in spring or autumn can effect moisture and atmosphere so as to produce clouds and rain and winds. The fact is that there is no more an equinoctial storm than there is a St. Patrick's day storm or a Fourth of July storm. Storms may come at those times but are not produced by them. The days and nights are of equal length March 21 and September 21 but this has no more effect on the weather than the predictions of professional weather prophets for revenue only.

AN OUTRAGED PEOPLE.

Great indignation prevailed Saturday in Mount Morris, and a bride of twenty-four hours and her new husband were driven from the city that afternoon. Three months ago the wife of John Siebert died. While her lifeless body rested on the bier her sister, Miss Teta Wolfe, made love to the dead woman's husband, and before the funeral the forgetful husband and the unnatural sister were led to the edge of the village and given a coat of tar and feathers. Last Friday evening they procured a marriage license and were married. This event was hailed with a storm of condemnation, and the couple were hissed and pelted with eggs and other missiles as they drove through the streets. Saturday morning an infuriated mob surrounded the house, and under promise that the couple would leave town, the mob departed. In the afternoon they left for parts unknown. This is the third mob that has made life miserable for the bride. She left town after receiving the coat of tar and feathers and about a month ago returned. On her return a mob surrounded her home and broke all of the windows in the house and threatened her with a coat of tar and feathers. She is only 16 years old.

CAN'T PLEASE EVERYBODY.

Every now and then something gets mad on account of something this newspaper says or does and with a great flourish orders his paper stopped. The same thing happens to every well conducted newspaper. People who do this are only cutting off their nasal appendages to spite their countenances for they will miss the paper far more than we will ever miss their 16 cents a week, and besides, we are not going to suspend publication because they quit taking the paper. We go right along undisturbed and constantly growing. We have been told that a newspaper cannot please everybody. We have never tried it, but we believe the statement to be true. A newspaper which never displeases anybody lacks backbone and positiveness of character. We are not anxious to make enemies, but when any man's friendship comes only at the expense of liberty, conscience and courage the price is too great.—Spartanburg (S. C.) Journal.

A Washington special says that during the past year the government has been saved $25,000 by the substitution of a small iron clip in place of rubber bands in the handling of registered mail in the general postal system. This will give an idea of the magnitude of the system. Supt. Lewis of the supply division made up his mind a year ago that it was extravagant to issue rubber bands for this purpose, and told the postmasters he would give them the clips. There was a kick, but Lewis was obstinate. They did not get the bands, and the books at the end of the fiscal year, showed the above sum "to the good."

The great success of Dorner in the big league shows what a superior article of ball was put by the Three Eye League. The patrons scarcely knew how much they were getting for their money.

Speaker Henderson can have one consolation. He kicked up a bigger muss when he quit public life than Speaker Reed did. In all other respects the late Czar is generally regarded as having Henderson distanced.

The people along the Sangamon are taking steps to correct some of the mistakes nature made when she constructed our noble stream. A few kinks out and the river Abraham Lincoln attempted to make navigable will be a pretty likely water course.

This is a cool autumn. Perhaps it is the result of so many frosts in democratic meetings. People are too busy making money to listen to anybody's tale of woe.

The Henderson sensation has about spent its force.

With the corn crop past danger of frost or other calamity the last hope of a democratic "issue" is gone.

O. C. Adams is the speaker Henderson of Macon county. He knows a little about what a bombshell is for himself.

Mr. Adams wants to advocate the principles of his party. He is not for anything to win. There are plenty more democrats like him.

The more the republicans examine our Cannon and his record the more he is regarded as the big gun in the speakership contest in December 1903.

Fortune Favors a Texan. "Having distressing pains in head, back and stomach, and being without appetite, I began to use Dr. King's New Life Pills," writes W. P. Whitehead of Kennedale, Tex., "and soon felt like a new man." Infallible in stomach and liver troubles. Only 25c at the drug stores of John E. King, McNier & Horrell, and N. L. Krone's drugstores.

Say It's All Right. A number of Decatur people have been over to Sullivan attending the street fair given by the merchants of that city. They came back impressed with the idea that the town has a good show. Sullivan's name is generally associated with the idea of a free and easy time, but it doesn't go in this particular. The attractions offered are reported to be first class, there is an absence of everything of an immoral nature and the show on the whole is much above the average. The display of corn and farm products is said to be very fine.

A Person's Noble Act. "I want all the world to know," writes Rev. C. J. Budlong of Ashaway, R. I., "what a thoroughly good and reliable medicine I found in Electric Bitters. They cured me of jaundice and liver troubles that had caused me great suffering for many years. I am a genuine, all-around cure they excel anything I ever saw." Electric Bitters are the surprise of all for their wonderful work in Liver, Kidney and Stomach troubles. Don't fail to try them. Only 50 cents. Satisfaction is guaranteed at the drug stores of John E. King, McNier & Horrell, and N. L. Krone.

Miss Maude Light is a bright, beautiful, Bloomington girl who is coming rapidly to the front on the stage. She is to be the leading lady as Katharine in "If I Were King" with E. H. Sothern. Miss Light is known to the public as Margaret Illington. The latter name is from the first syllable of Illinois and the last two of Bloomington. This is a little ingenious but it is too bad that she did not retain her own name so that whatever of histrionic glory she achieved would cluster around the name of her parents. Her mother, Mrs. I. H. Light, is constantly with her beautiful daughter.

Sam Allerton threatens to oppose the Sangamon improvement scheme. Why not turn the job over to Uncle Sam? He is wasting millions each year on goose creeks which make the Sangamon look like a roaring torrent by comparison.

The growth of cotton manufacturing in the South is making the Southern manufacturers tremble. England has had well nigh a monopoly in this line. A half million new looms are to go into Dixie. In almost every line America is robbing the old world of its wealth and laurels.

A Democratic paper alludes to the "panicky condition of Wall Street." This is the chronic condition of business as viewed by democratic organs and stumblers during the campaign. The business aspects of the country may be expected to pick up at a lively gait after "the Tuesday after the first Monday in November."

M'BRIDE-DAVIS NUPTIALS.

Pretty Wedding Celebrated on West Macon Street Last Evening.

A beautiful wedding occurred last night when Miss Mary E. Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Davis, 527 West Macon street, was married to Frank A. McBride, son of Mrs. M. J. McBride, 526 North Church street. The ceremony took place at 8:30 o'clock. Rev. H. C. Gibbs, pastor of the First Methodist church, officiating.

BRIDAL CHAIN. To the strains of Lohengrin's bridal chorus the party came down the long stairs from the second floor. Six pretty young ladies, dressed in pure white, carried a bridal chain of asparagus fern. The ladies were Misses Florence, Corinne Leach, Della Eaton, Mary Clerk and Susie Tucker. As they descended the stairway they separated on either side, making a guard of honor for the bride and groom as they entered the parlor, where, under a massive canopy of asparagus fern the brief ceremony was performed.

BRIDAL GOWN. The bride gown was an exquisite work of point lace, made by the hand of a French seamstress. The gown was also the dainty insertion which trimmed the innumerable tucks on the skirt and sleeves. The bride's collar was high and completed by a dainty ornament of white illusion. Among her ornaments was a beautiful sunburst of diamonds and pearls which she wore in her corsage.

Following the ceremony the bride and groom received the congratulations of their friends.

After the congratulations the guests were ushered into the dining room, where a wedding supper was served in two courses, in charge of Mrs. Garrett. From a chandelier in the center of the room were draped festoons of white ribbon wound with soft and caught flowers and ferns. The drawing room was a pretty sight. About the mantle hundreds of bunches of nasturtiums were piled intermingled with asparagus.

Throughout the house the white and green effect was carried out. The groom is employed by the Decatur Drug Company as salesman. He is an energetic young man and has a host of friends in this city and among his traveling companions.

The bride was for five years a teacher in the Church and Wood street schools. She was also a prominent worker in the Sunday school of the First Methodist church. She was a graduate of the Decatur High school in the class of 1893 and graduated from Normal the following year.

PRESENTS. A number of expensive articles were among the presents of cut glass, silver, fine china and furniture. A thoughtful remembrance was the tinware sent by the children of the Wood street school.

The out of town guests were as follows: Mrs. H. S. McBride of Centralia, Mrs. Lida Whitfield, Sullivan; Dr. M. J. O'Brien; Mrs. Elsie Greenfield and Mrs. Della Wirlings of Long Creek; Miss M. E. Davis of Mt. Zion, Mrs. J. J. Davis of Chicago, Henry Brown and daughter of Bondy, Elsie and Clara, of Macon, Ill.; Mrs. J. J. Davis of Bloomington; Delbert Durcan of Sullivan; Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Garvey of Biloxippi, Mr. and Mrs. Lute Bennett of Argentina, Miss Mame Kirby of Orenco, Mr. and Mrs. T. McIntosh of Orenco.

Mr. and Mrs. McBride will reside at 537 West Macon street, and will be at home to friends on October 15th and after.

two lilies. The room was beautifully illuminated by soft red lights. The attendants were Miss Clara B. Miller of Terre Haute and J. James R. Meyer of this city.

The bride wore a tailor-made suit of brown velvet with embroidered silk waist, and carried a bouquet of bride's roses. A single white rosebud ornamented her hair. The bride-maid wore a gown of pale green silk and carried pink roses.

After receiving the congratulations of the company the bride party left the way to the dining room where a wedding supper was served. Many handsome and useful presents were received.

The bride is an estimable young lady of many accomplishments and has a wide circle of friends. The groom is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Weltmer and a promising young farmer. The young couple will go at once to housekeeping in a pretty home provided by the groom in Heardsville.

Regrets were received from friends in Warsawburg and Terre Haute.

SPELLMAN-MULLIGAN. Married at Rock Island Tuesday and Friends Waiting to Welcome Them Home.

Martin Spellman, the well known Washburn switchman of this city, and Miss Nora Mulligan of Macon, were married at Rock Island Tuesday. They visited in St. Louis Wednesday and were expected at home last night at 11 o'clock, but did not come. Friends of the groom had prepared a reception for him and they were not disposed to let the affair go by. When the bride party failed to arrive on the St. Louis train the committee patiently waited until the 1 o'clock train came in to welcome the couple, and proposed to celebrate the wedding in proper style upon their arrival even though the affair had extended into the small hours of the morning.

Lawhead-French. Francis M. Lawhead and Miss Adele French, both of Lincoln, were married Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock by Rev. H. C. Gibbs at the First M. E. parsonage on West Main street. The groom is a manufacturer of pharmaceuticals and both young people are well known here.

H. R. MARCOIT DISAPPEARS

Superintendent of the Pekin Gas and Electric Co. Mysteriously Absent Himself From His Home.

HIS ACCOUNTS ARE STRAIGHT. Henry Marcocit, formerly with the Decatur Gas and Electric company, but for several years business manager for the Pekin Gas and Electric company at Pekin, has disappeared from his home in that city. The Post-Tribune of Tuesday night has the following to say about the disappearance of Marcocit:

"H. R. Marcocit, superintendent of the Pekin Gas and Electric company, has not been seen since Saturday afternoon, and the supposition is that he is in Chicago and that he will be back in a day or two. There are various theories regarding his disappearance, but in the absence of anything authentic it is no more than a right and should be left to the imagination. Marcocit was a hale fellow well met, liberal to a fault, and had a good time during the races. His accounts are reported all straight with his employers, so if he has not met with foul play he will in all probability turn up all right in a day or two."

Marcocit's wife is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Fisher of Decatur and naturally she is greatly worried over the disappearance of her husband. George Foster, her brother, returned home last evening after a visit to Pekin to see what he could do in solving the disappearance of his brother-in-law. Last night he made the statement that he had been unable to gain the slightest clue to the disappearance. Marcocit and his wife had lived together most happily and it was his habit when he was absent from home for any unusual length of time to inform his wife of his whereabouts and the business which had detained him. It was not infrequently the case that if affairs of his business kept him unexpectedly from home, in the absence of his wife he would return. His continued absence after such a habit has of course given her much worry.

Foster says that he is at a loss to offer any explanation of the affair.

Sixty-seven dollars and twenty cents per acre per year for planting a crop on $50 an acre land once in ten years, and then simply letting it grow and cutting it with a corn knife once each year! Is it any wonder that the money per capita, even immediately after its expensive war, was so much greater in Cuba than the United States? Something was wrong in the circuit court Thursday for about a dozen suits were filed and among them was not a single plea for divorce. The rush of suits yesterday was due to the fact that there was only one more day in which suits for a hearing at the October term may be filed.

Among the pleas was one on a change of venue from Douglas county.
